NORMAL PLEASURES OF SOCIAL SET TO BE RESUMED

With the state fair a matter of history, society will resume its normal pleasures, dinners, dances replacing the races and the impromptu suppers that featured the gay week. The fair had its serious side to society for many of its members were exhibitors in the different departments. Then, too, they had an interest in the exceptionally fine art exhibition while they took an active part in the many activities in connection with the fair, the Day Nursery being their pet project. Through the sale of flowers and refreshments the nucleus of a building fund was secured which will be supplemented by a number of benefit events during the year.

There are a number of smart events on the calendar for the coming week while the Thanksgiving season will usher in the more formal functions.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McCarthy Are Guests of Mrs. Sims Ely
Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Neil McCarthy, Mrs. Sims Ely gave a delightful buffet supper Tuesday evening, the event being one of many in honor of the McCarthy's who are returning to their home in Los Angeles tonight.

Mrs. Harry Chandler Returns From Summer Stay on the Coast
Mrs. Harry Chandler returned recently from Los Angeles where she spent the summer and early autumn months. Her daughter, Miss Marion Chandler, will remain on the coast until the Thanksgiving season. She is being delightfully entertained in San Francisco, where she has a legion of friends.

Miss Elizabeth Samuels a Week-End Visitor Here
Miss Elizabeth Samuels is the week-end guest of Miss Ruth Goldberg, who gave an informal tea for Miss Samuels yesterday. The charming visitor who is wintering in Tucson visited here last spring, when she made many friends who welcomed her return.

Bernard Gillespie Hosts At a Smart Supper Affair
Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gillespie gave a smart supper last evening, entertaining eighteen guests in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McCarthy. The event took place at the Gillespie residence on North Third street.

Spanish Supper On Ranch Given by Neil McCarthy
One of the most delightful events of the week was the Spanish supper given by the Neil McCarthy's Thursday evening at their ranch west of Glendale.

Among the other local girls who came from Tucson for the event were Miss Ruth Burtis, Miss Harriet Tritle, Miss Marion Bennett, Miss Catherine Tait, Miss Mary Burton and Miss Margaret Tait.

Season To Open at Castle Hot Springs, Dec. 1
Society is looking forward with interest to the formal opening of the Castle Hot Springs season on Dec. 1. The hotel will be under the management of M. T. Grier, and as usual smart folk will make it a favorite rendezvous for week-ends. In addition to its attractive climate the Springs offers a delightful combination of amusements which makes it fascinating to easterners as well as Arizonians.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Akers Returns From California Coast
Mrs. C. H. Akers returned yesterday from a several months' absence on the Californian coast.

Distinguished Russian Pianist Delightfully Entertained Here
Josef Lhevinne's appearance in Phoenix was the inspiration for several delightful affairs which gave a few local musicians the pleasure of meeting the distinguished pianist. The Russian artist was entertained while here by Governor and Mrs. Campbell, who gave an informal luncheon in his honor, followed by a box party at the fair. Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Redewill, leaders of the musical set, also entertained for Lhevinne, giving a small supper at the Grand after his concert Thursday evening.

Los Angeles Girl Arrives To Visit Relatives
Miss Edith Steady of Los Angeles arrived Friday to spend three weeks with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baxter. Miss Steady has been in Arizona a fortnight, visiting the George Buxtons in Douglas and the Mose Drachmans in Tucson.

Tucson People Guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hulet
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleishman, who returned to Tucson Friday, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibbons Hulet on the day of their departure for the south.

Country Club Calendar Replete With Events
The Country club, which suspended all activity during the fair, will resume its social program this week with the Wednesday tennis luncheon which came in vogue a year ago and a bridge tea on Saturday afternoon, last season's entertainment committee serving. Both events will unquestionably attract a smart attendance.

Delightful Dinner An Event of Fair Week
Stephen Raeburn was a dinner host at the Arizona club Wednesday evening, his guests including Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Morrison and Miss Thelma Krebs.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Chandler Feted Before They Sail

assistant land commissioner, who gave a smart function in their honor. Mrs. Bruce was assisted by Mrs. Will Barnes, who divides her time between Phoenix and Washington. Mr. Barnes being with the forestry service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber Leave for California Home
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber left Tucson this evening for their home in California.

Clubs

In celebration of the tercentenary of the Landing of the Pilgrims, Maricopa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will present a patriotic program at the Woman's club on Friday evening. The pupils of drama of the Arizona School of Music will present "The Courtship of Miles Standish" while a male quartet under the direction of Wendell Jones will render several numbers. Dean Scarlett will make the address of the evening and slides of Pilgrim times will be shown. In connection with this celebration The Native American published at the Indian School has reprinted the following article from the War Community service:

To Celebrate the 300th Anniversary of America's Origin
The year 1920 is doubly significant, historically. It marks the 300th anniversary of two important events which led to the founding of the Republic of the United States of America. One is the signing of the Mayflower Compact and the landing of the Pilgrims; and the other is the meeting of the first American legislative assembly. On November 11, 1620, in the cabin of the Mayflower, a tiny bark lying off the Massachusetts coast, a little band of liberty-loving men, from "Brittania," entered into what history has styled the Mayflower Compact. This agreement bound the 41 adult males in the ship's company into a civil body politic for the better ordering, preserving and furthering of their mutual ends. And it provided for such just and equal laws and offices as should be necessary for the general good of the colony. Ten days later, so records Dr. Charles W. Eliot's inscription on the Pilgrims memorial monument at Provincetown, Massachusetts, "the Mayflower, carrying 102 passengers, men and women and children, cast anchor in this harbor 37 days from Plymouth, England."

"This body politic, established and maintained on this bleak and barren edge of a vast wilderness, a state without a king or a noble, a church without a bishop or a priest, a democratic commonwealth, the members of which were straitly tied to all care of each other's good, and of the whole by every one."

"With long-suffering devotion and sober resolution they illustrated for the first time in history the principles of civil and religious liberty and the practice of genuine democracy."

Meantime, uninformed of the Pilgrims, fellow-colonists of Captain John Smith had met at "James City" (Jamestown), Virginia for the first American legislative assembly. On July 30, 1619, they had thus broken ground for the foundation of the present democratic form of government in the United States.

This year (in 1920) these events are being commemorated in the United States, in England and in Holland. In August, the origin of the Pilgrim movement was celebrated in England. And early in September, meetings were held in Holland in memory of the Pilgrims' sojourn in that country.

In September, a "second Mayflower" set sail from Southampton, England, to follow to the American shore the path taken by the original Mayflower. (But
